Problem Statement

- Food Wastage by people in restaurants in the form of leftovers.
- India generates approximately 11.9 million tons of food waste annually from its food service sector, figure comes from the United Nations Environment Program's (UNEP) Food Waste Index Report 2021.
- The same UNEP report estimates India produces a total of around 68.7 million tons of food waste per year.

Causes of food wastage

- Oversized portions served.
- Customers ordering more than they can eat.
- Buffet culture (overfilling plates).
- Lack of awareness about food wastage.
- Social factors (leaving food seen as “wealth” in some contexts).

Consequences of food wastage

- Economic loss – wasted money for restaurants/customers.
- Environmental damage – wasted resources (water, energy, fertilizers).
- Ethical concern – millions in India go hungry while food is wasted.
- Extra waste management burden for cities.

Solution

> An innovative Android application designed to bridge the gap between restaurants and NGOs, charities, and trusts — enabling seamless donation of daily excess food to those in need.

- Name : KIND MEAL
